Re: PARA 4 Life Trip to The Ark Encounter and Creation Museum; Records request

Dear Mr. Minor:

The American Atheist Legal Center (AALC) recently learned that the Tuscaloosa County Park and Recreation Authority (PARA) has organized a trip to the Ark Encounter and Creation Museum from April 8th through April 12th, 2019. On its Facebook page, PARA is billing the trip as the "PARA 4 Life Trip to The Ark Encounter and Creation Museum." The trip includes visits to the Ark Encounter, Creation Museum, and the National Underground Railroad Freedom Center, as well as meals and lodging. Residents wishing to visit National Underground Railroad Freedom Center have no choice but to register and pay for visits to all three locations, regardless of whether they wish to attend. Not only is this trip expressly promoting an Evangelical Christian ministry, but it places coercive pressure on seniors in your community and funnels their money into the coffers of that same ministry, whether the residents wish to visit those facilities or not. For these reasons, it appears that this trip violates the Establishment Clause of the First Amendment.

The AALC is part of American Atheists, Inc., a national nonprofit organization dedicated to the separation of religion and government and elevating atheists and atheism in our nation's public and political discourse. American Atheists is based in Cranford, New Jersey, and has more than 350,000 members and supporters across the country, including in Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

The PARA 4 Life trip violates the Establishment Clause.

The Establishment Clause of the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution requires that government make no law respecting an establishment of religion, a prohibition which extends to state governments via the Fourteenth Amendment.¹ The Establishment clause prohibits the government from taking "a position on questions of religious belief," through "endorsement, favoritism, or promotion."² Moreover, "when the power, prestige and financial support of government is placed behind a particular religious belief, the indirect coercive pressure upon religious minorities to conform to the prevailing officially approved religion is plain."³ "The State may not . . . pay for what is actually a religious education,”⁴ and the state impermissibly promotes religion when its funds are funneled “to an institution in which religion is so pervasive that a substantial portion of its functions are subsumed in the religious mission.”⁵

Both the Ark Encounter and its “sister attraction,” the Creation Museum,⁶ are part of Answers in Genesis (AIG), “an apologetics (i.e., Christianity-defending) ministry, dedicated to enabling Christians to defend their faith and to proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ effectively.”⁷ Specifically, AIG promotes religious tenets including Young-Earth Creationism (the claim that the entire history of the Universe “span[s] approximately 4,000 years from creation to Christ”), that non-Christians, Catholics, and Mormons “are subject to everlasting conscious punishment,” and that “no apparent, perceived or claimed evidence in any field, including history and chronology, can be valid if it contradicts the scriptural record.”⁸

As part of Answers in Genesis’ lackluster efforts to draw visitors to its Ark Encounter theme park,⁹ the organization is engaged in a campaign to draft local government agencies as shells for its “attractions.” Part of that effort includes distributing template language for agencies to use when organizing trips to entice residents to visit Answers in Genesis’ facilities. That very language appears in the “PARA4Life--Senior Travel” page’s entry for the upcoming trip:

Motorcoach transportation
4 nights lodging
8 meals: 4 breakfasts and 4 dinners
Admission to the New, Stunning – ARK ENCOUNTER!
Admission to the Famous CREATION MUSEUM¹⁰

This language also appears, verbatim, in fliers promoting similar events by the Charleston, IL Parks and Recreation Department and the Person County, NC Recreation, Arts & Parks Department (see attached). By accepting and distributing Answers in Genesis’ promotional copy for its “New, Stunning – ARK ENCOUNTER!” and the “Famous CREATION MUSEUM,” PARA has given Answers in Genesis its governmental stamp of approval. This conduct constitutes the sort of “endorsement, favoritism, or promotion” that the Establishment Clause prohibits.

In addition to violating the “endorsement test,” by organizing the trip as an all-or-nothing event, PARA is putting coercive pressure on senior Tuscaloosa residents. PARA4Life members who wish to go on the trip in order to visit the National Underground Railroad Freedom Center have no choice but to also pay for admission to the pervasively religious facilities operated by Answers in Genesis. This has the dual effect of a) placing coercive pressure on residents to attend the Answers in Genesis facilities when they otherwise would not, and b) directing funds provided by residents to an organization whose stated purpose is to provide a pervasively religious education.

The AALC respectfully requests that PARA take steps to correct this situation by cancelling the "PARA 4 Life Trip to The Ark Encounter and Creation Museum" and removing all materials promoting the event, the Ark Encounter, or the Creation Museum from PARA facilities. In addition, PARA should take steps to devise, implement, and enforce policies that will prevent the department funds from being devoted to religious activities or trips.
