

March 26, 2019

The Honorable Sen. Sonia Chang-Diaz Chair, Joint Committee on Children, Families & Persons with Disabilities 24 Beacon St. Room 111 Boston, Massachusetts 02133 The Honorable Rep. Kay Kahn Chair, Joint Committee on Children, Families & Persons with Disabilities 24 Beacon St. Room 111 Boston, Massachusetts 02133

Re: SUPPORT for S. 24 , An Act to End Child Marriage in Massachusetts

Dear Chairperson Chang-Diaz, Chairperson Kahn, and Members of the Joint Committee on Children, Families, and Persons with Disabilities:

As a Massachusetts resident and member of American Atheists, which has over 1,000 constituents in Massachusetts, I thank you for holding a hearing on Senate Bill 24, which would end child marriage in Massachusetts. This life-saving bill would protect young people in Massachusetts from being coerced into marriage against their will, a harmful and archaic practice that happens all-too-frequently across our nation. We urge you to swiftly pass this important legislation.

American Atheists is a national civil rights organization that works to achieve religious equality for all Americans by protecting what Thomas Jefferson called the "wall of separation" between government and religion created by the First Amendment. We strive to create an environment where atheism and atheists are accepted as members of our nation's communities and where casual bigotry against our community is seen as abhorrent and unacceptable. We promote understanding of atheists through education, outreach, and community-building and work to end the stigma associated with being an atheist in America. American Atheists believes that children should never be coerced into marriage due to the religious beliefs of their parents or guardians.

Current Massachusetts law has provisions which permit young people under the age of 18 to marry if they have parental consent and judicial approval. Appallingly, there is no minimum statutory age for these exceptions. An estimated 1,200 minors were married in Massachusetts between 2000 and 2016,¹ the majority of which were girls marrying men. Child marriage robs young people of the right to choose their own path in life.

¹ Abiraj N. (Jan. 19, 2019). Marching to End Child Marriage in Massachusetts. Human Rights Watch Dispatches. Available at https://www.hrw.org/news/2019/01/19/marching-end-child-marriage-massachusetts.

The harm caused by child marriage is daunting. It harms the child brides' health, irrevocably reduces their education and economic opportunities, and increases their risk of experiencing violence. Those who marry before 18 have a 70 to 80% chance of getting divorced—and teen mothers who marry and then divorce are much more likely to end up in poverty than teen mothers who stay single.² An estimated 207,549 minors were married in the U.S. between 2000 and 2015, with 86% of those marriages being between a minor and an adult.³

In fact, the U.S. State Department has called marriage before age 18 a "human rights abuse."⁴ However, children can easily be forced to marry before they turn 18 and become legal adults, because they face overwhelming legal and practical barriers if they try to leave home, enter a domestic-violence shelter, retain an attorney, or bring a legal action. Unfortunately, a requirement of parental "consent" hardly mitigates the danger of forced child marriage because when a child is forced to marry, the perpetrators are almost always the parents. There will always be parental "consent" when there is parental coercion in the first place. Therefore, Massachusetts law currently contains no effective procedural safeguard against the danger of forced child marriage.

By adopting S. 24, Massachusetts would effectively eliminate these loopholes and join states such as New Jersey and Delaware which have taken proactive steps to end child marriage. Thank you for the opportunity to testify in favor of this important bill to protect the safety and well-being of young people in Massachusetts. If you should have any questions regarding American Atheists' support for S. 24, please contact Alison Gill, Vice President for Legal and Policy, at 908.276.7300 x309 or by email at agill@atheists.org.

Sincerely,

Jennifer Bradbury American Atheists of Massachusetts

cc: All Members of the Massachusetts Joint Committee on Children, Families, and Persons with Disabilities

² Hamilton VE. (2012). "The Age of Marital Capacity: Reconsidering Civil Recognition of Adolescent Marriage." William & Mary Law School Scholarship Repository, Faculty Publications, 1430. Available at http://scholarship.law.wm.edu/cgi/viewcontent.cgi?article=2467&context=facpubs.

³ Tsui A, Nolan S, and Amico C. (July 6, 2017). Child Marriage in America: By the Numbers. Available at http://apps.frontline.org/child-marriage-by-the-numbers/.

⁴ U.S. Department of State, et al. (2016). United States Global Strategy to Empower Adolescent Girls. Available at https://www.state.gov/documents/organization/254904.pdf.